Assignment Name: Chocolate Chip Cookie Recipe Analysis

Overview:

This analysis finds out the best chocolate chip cookie recipe by identifying which recipes produce a crispy edge, chewy middle, and caramel flavor, and how those recipes compare in ratings to recipes that do not meet these criteria.

Dataset:

34 recipes and 30 columns including ingredient amounts, baking techniques, sugar ratios, criteria scores, and ratings. Recipes were sourced from creators including Preppy Kitchen, Broma Bakery, Sally's Baking Addiction, Jacques Torres, Alton Brown, Serious Eats, America's Test Kitchen, and more.

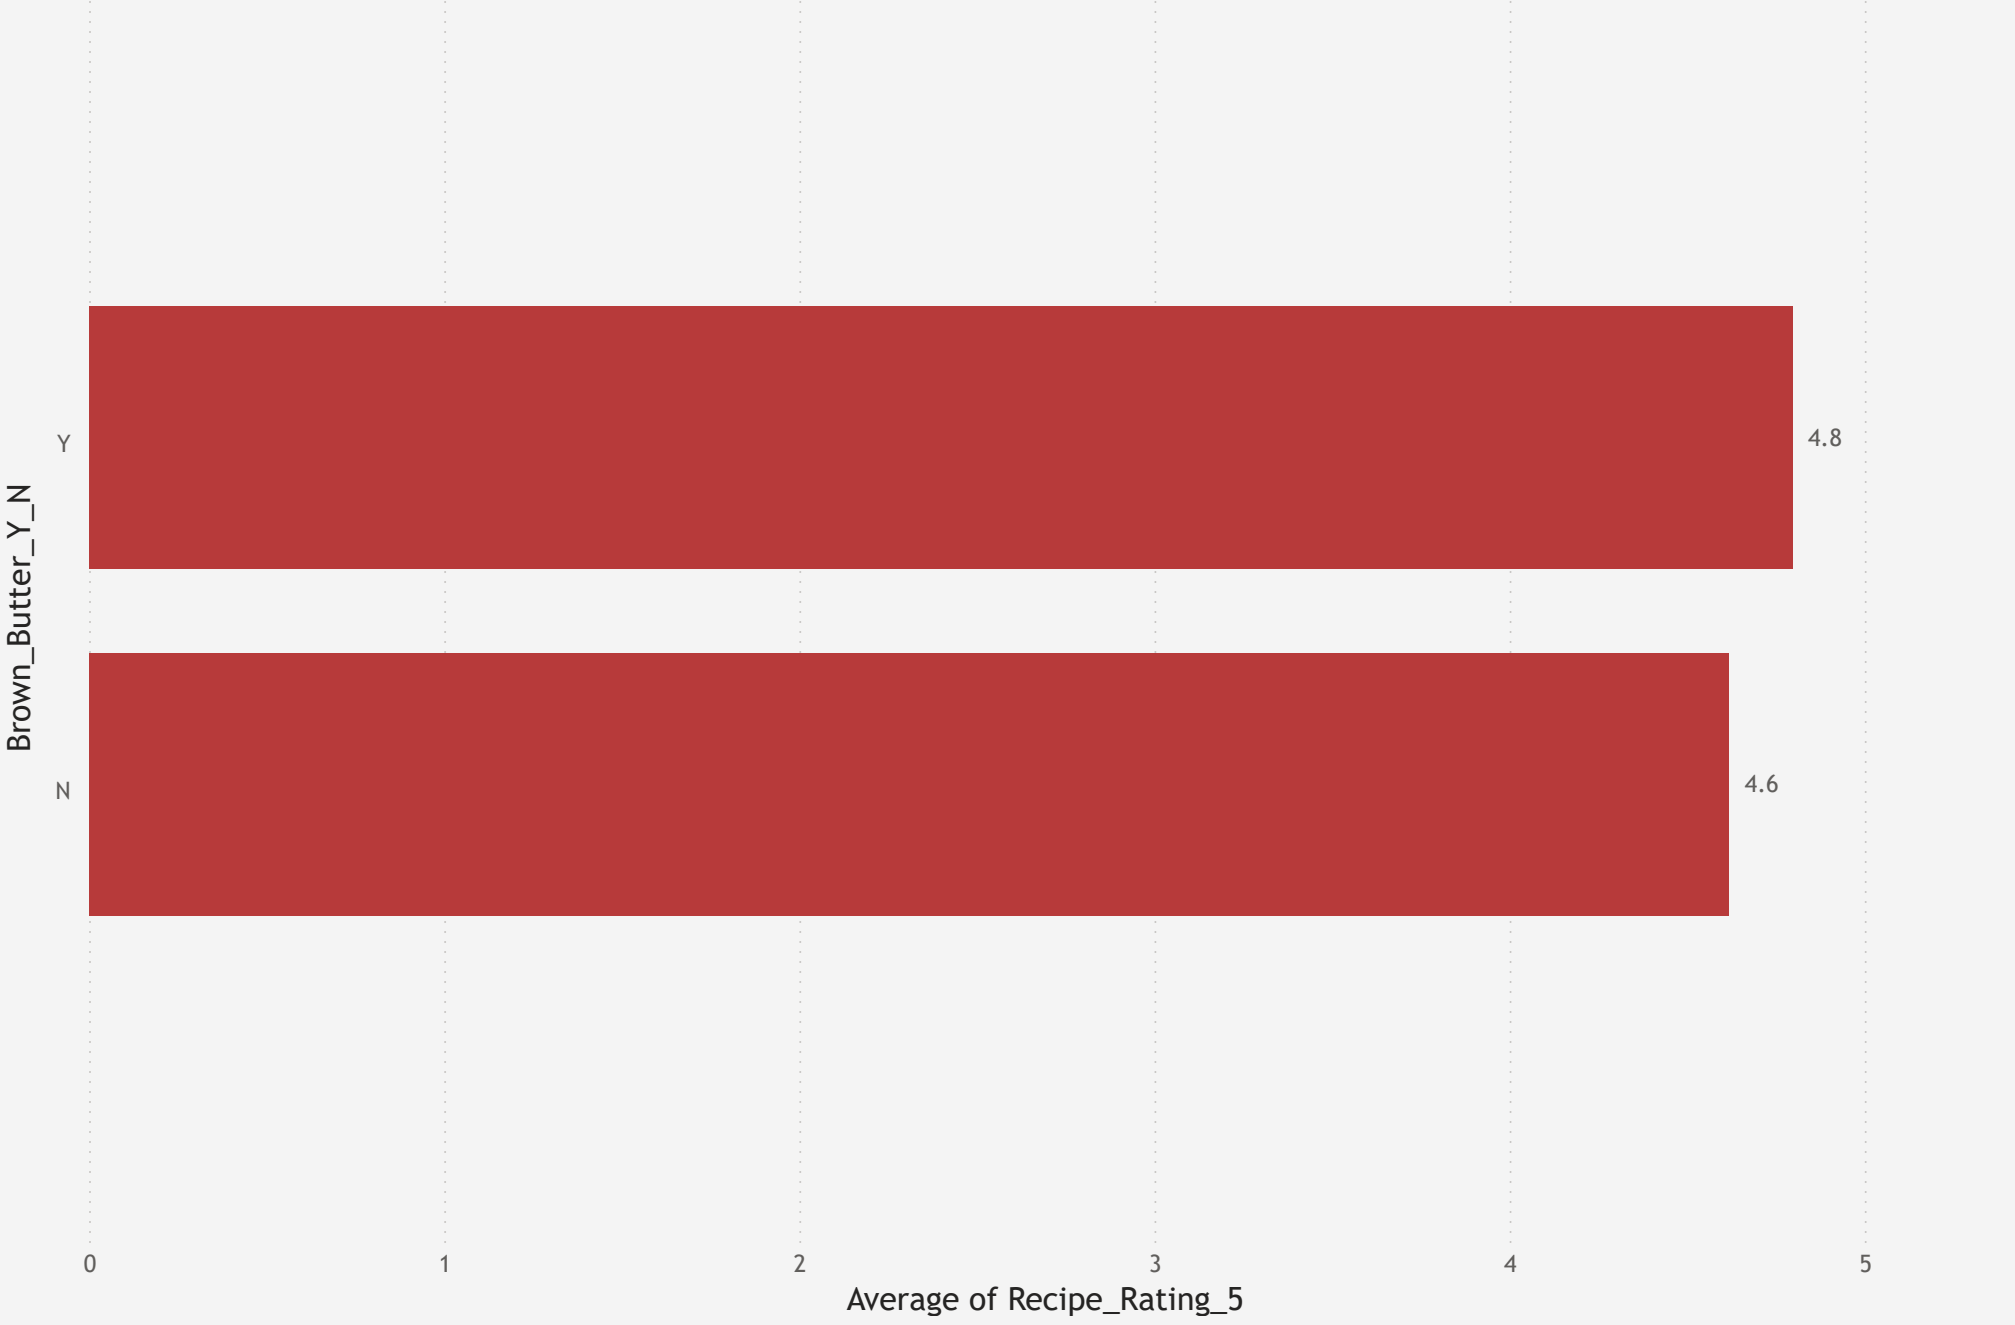

Key Findings:

- Recipes meeting all 3 criteria averaged a 4.8 out of 5 rating
- Brown butter recipes rated higher than regular butter recipes
- Top rated recipes used 60 to 85 percent brown sugar
- All recipes baked at 375F met the crispy edge criteria
- Bon Appetit and Smitten Kitchen scored a perfect 3 out of 3
